Steve's Slant

If you're thinking back to last month and wondering, Did I miss something?, I can assure you that you did not: there was no July Extended Family.

It was not our intention – not my intention – to simply skip July and not produce our monthly newsletter.

It's just that life intervened. Well, actually, "life" is perhaps not the right word. Between Thursday, July 1st, and Monday, July 26th, I either led, attended or participated in seven memorial services: three here at WWPC (one for William Hamilton, one for Käthe Mosher and one for Margaret Nelson), two in Minnesota (one for my niece, and one for my aunt), one in the columbarium at Montreat and one in the Assembly Hall at Highland Farms (these were separate services but both of them were for John Craven).

We also got the news earlier this week that Chuck Stephenson passed away last Sunday. You may wish to make a note that his service will be in the Chapel at Givens Estates on Saturday, August 28th at 11:00 a.m.

Ordinarily I try not to talk much about my workload. It's just not a good look for a pastor to do that, for all sorts of reasons. But I do it here not to underscore what an oddly demanding month July has been – demanding in terms of time and emotional resources – but because I suspect July has been oddly demanding for many of you, too.

There is just so much going on in the world right now, and so much of it is moderately to acutely worrisome, that it's tempting to just go back to bed after breakfast, pull the covers over one's head and stay there for the rest of the day.

The writer of Ecclesiastes tells us that for everything there is a time and a purpose under heaven. If that's true – and of course it is – then, for me, July 2021 was a season of loss. And of grief and mourning. And I know it was that way for everyone who knew or loved any of the dear folks whom we have lost.

However you look at it, July has been an unusually difficult month. But we also know that seasons change: summer to fall, fall to winter, winter to spring and spring back to summer.

So, I'd love to say that after this long hard summer we can look forward to an easier time, perhaps even a season of celebration as we prepare for Sunday school and choir to start, and the resumption of what we hope will be a more normal programmatic year this fall.

But if I had to guess right now, it's shaping up to be more a season of change and adaptation. And I think it's important that we are honest about this, so that our expectations are in line with what may be coming, and so that we can prepare for whatever that might be.

Whether we like it or not – and of course we decidedly do not like it -- the coronavirus is still with us, nineteen months after the first case in the US was reported last January.

That is hard news to share, hard news to hear, hard news to accept. (Continued on page 9)

Choir!

Adult choir will begin rehearsals on September 8th at 7:30 PM. We were so honored to be able to sing as a group again for our beloved alto Kathe Mosher at her memorial service. We will miss her so much, but it was also so fitting that we were able to join our voices together again after such a long hiatus. We will continue observing whatever COVID protocols are necessary, and if we need to sing masked and socially distanced, we can do that too. We will be as flexible as we need to be to meet the demands of this seemingly never ending pandemic. But, we will plan to lift our voices together beginning in September. If you would like to sing and would be interested in joining, just contact me at joelprogers1967@gmail.com or pop up to the balcony any Sunday after church!

Our newly formed handbell choir will begin rehearsals on September 8th at 6:30 PM. We were fortunate enough to be able to play a couple times before summer break, and we had such a good time, we are going to keep going. At present, we have all the ringers we need, but if you ever want to join in, just let me know and I'm sure we can find a place for you. If you've never played bells before, that's ok! The learning isn't very high and we are always willing to teach you anything you need to know. If you are interested, please contact me at joelprogers1967@gmail.com.

5 CENTS A MEAL

The presbytery's 5 cents a meal offering funds a variety of activities to help the hungry and those in need. When combined together, our small gifts support many important programs in our area and throughout the world. Our congregation has generously supported this offering for a number of years.

Ordinarily, the children pass a red basket to collect this offering during worship on the first Sunday of each month. This month, and the months following, the red baskets will be sitting on the offering table as you come into the church to gather. During the month of August, there will again be an option for on-line giving on our website. Finally, you may mail a check to Warren Wilson Presbyterian Church, Attn: Receiving Treasurer, 101 Chapel Drive, Swannanoa, NC 28778. Please make your check payable to Warren Wilson Presbyterian Church with a notation that it is for the 5 cents a meal offering.

Thanks for all you do to support those in need.

WALK FOR YOUR NEIGHBOR

Mark your calendar for Sunday, October 10, at 2:00 PM when Warren Wilson will join our neighbors for the annual Walk sponsored by the Swannanoa Valley Christian Ministry. Allee Williams is coordinating the WWPC participation in the Walk this year.

We are walking to celebrate the support that neighbors have given to neighbors during the pandemic and to raise money for medical needs, rent, utility payments, etc. as well as funds for hunger needs.

Churches are invited to enter a poster contest. The winning poster will receive a $100 donation to the Walk, given in honor of that church.

In a few weeks, we will have signup sheets for the Walk in the narthex. Check with Allee and her team for more information in the next few weeks.

Mission Trip Opportunity for PWNC

You will find links to helpful information about the trip on the Presbytery Website. Feel free to share this information with others who may have an interest in going.

THREE AREA FAMILIES MOVED IN TO NEW HABITAT FOR HUMANITY HOUSES IN JUNE
THIS INCLUDED THE FIRST HOUSE OF FAITH MADE POSSIBLE BY A DIVERSE COALITION OF FAITH COMMUNITIES AND OTHER FUND-RAISING EFFORTS

Even with numerous challenges caused by the pandemic, Asheville Area Habitat for Humanity pressed on with its mission of providing and maintaining affordable housing by building 12 new houses and doing needed repairs on 70 existing houses in the fiscal year that recently ended.

One of the new houses is the first House of Faith which was supported by donations from our church and many others, generous individual donors and the Stay Home with Habitat promotion in January in which five participants won dinner from an Asheville restaurant delivered to their home.

Habitat plans to build 12 more new houses in the current fiscal year, as well as do repairs on 71 existing Buncombe County houses. The plans include starting the next House of Faith in March.

Volunteer opportunities, which were largely stopped during the pandemic, are reopening at job sites and at Habitat's ReStore locations in Asheville and Weaverville. If you have questions about these or may be interested in helping the Habitat mission as a volunteer, contact Larry Griswold.

HAPPY HOMEOWNER - after completing Habitat's sweat equity requirements, Mission Hospital employee Leesa Flowers (center), became the owner of the brand new two-bedroom, two-bath House of Faith in Habitat's West Asheville's New Heights neighborhood. Leesa's mother and daughter joined her for the special day and Barbara Griswold handed the house keys to Leesa.

JOY - Nine year-old Lazaria Flowers celebrated having her own bedroom for the first time in her life in front of Habitat's House of Faith after her mother purchased the house.

If there is any good news in this scenario – and there is – it's that all of the major vaccines are still proving to be remarkably effective in preventing infections, and in preventing serious disease in the (still relatively rare) cases of breakthrough infections.

COVID-19, and more specifically the Delta variant of it, appears to be largely a pandemic of the unvaccinated. And it's not just me saying that; that's coming from the best epidemiologists in the country.

Still, infection rates and hospitalizations are once again rising almost everywhere. So it's fair to ask what this means for us and what are our plans in response.

Our in-person worship team met on Wednesday evening to consider these very questions. We unanimously agreed that the protective steps we've taken and the health and safety protocols we've instituted around our services (worship and memorial) are, for the moment any way, the best we can do to protect the health and safety of our members.

So we will continue to do those: We will continue to require masks and, given the nature of Delta variant's infection vector (spread largely by the unvaccinated, to the unvaccinated), we will continue to encourage people who have not been vaccinated to worship with us online.

I know it's disappointing—and frustrating—to feel like we're still stuck in the middle of this pandemic. But if there is another piece of good news – and there is – it's that this summer is different than last: if you have been vaccinated, well, sure, continue to be safe and take precautions.

Because if you do that, you have every right, grounded in the best science we have, to feel safe in resuming your life, and living your life.

At Warren Wilson Presbyterian Church we are mothers and fathers, single and married, gay and straight, young and old,
black and white,
prosperous and poor,
uncertain and sure, broken
and whole - and everything in between. Together we are the many faces of humanity, yet as a joyful, caring and loving community of faith, we are committed in our diversity
to be one in Christ!
